To the Board of Directors Americans for Effective Law Enforcement, Inc. Park Ridge, Illinois

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial position of Americans For Effective Law Enforcement, Inc. (a not-for-profit organization) as of December 31, 2007 and 2006, and the related statements of activities, changes in net assets, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Organization's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Americans for Effective Law Enforcement, Inc. as of December 31, 2007 and 2006, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS DECEMBER 31, 2007 AND 2006

NOTE A -- SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nature of Operations

The Organization maintains a national legal research center to assist law enforcement agencies. They also provide legal publications and workshops as well as filing amicus curiae briefs in the United States Supreme Court and other major courts in support of the law enforcement issues.

Use of Estimates

Management uses estimates and assumptions in preparing financial statements. Those estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities and the reported revenues and expenses.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the Statements of Cash Flows, the Organization considers short-term investments, such as money-market accounts, certificates of deposit and other highly liquid assets as cash equivalents.

Accounts Receivable

The Organization considers accounts receivable to be fully collectible. Accordingly, no allowance for doubtful accounts has been established. If accounts become uncollectible, they are charged to operations when that determination is made.

Investments

Investments in marketable securities with readily determinable fair values and all investments in debt securities are reported at their fair values on the statement of financial position. Unrealized gains and losses are included in the change in net assets.

Property and Equipment

The cost of property and equipment is being depreciated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets. The estimated useful lives of the assets are as follows:

Building and improvements	5-40 years
Furniture and fixtures	5-7 years
Computer and office equipment	3-5 years
Computer software	3 years

Depreciation expense amounted to $21,623 and $23,556 for the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

NOTE A -- SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES-- Continued

Concentration of Credit Risk

The Organization provides credit in the normal course of business to customers throughout the United States. The credit risk with respect to these receivables is generally considered minimal, and procedures are in effect to monitor the credit worthiness of customers.

The Company maintains its cash balances at various financial institutions. The accounts are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to $100,000. At December 31, 2007 and 2006, the uninsured cash balance was $66,744 and $0 respectively.

Revenue Recognition and Deferred Revenue

Voluntary contributions are recorded as revenue when received, except when specified by the donor for use in future periods. The Organization received contributions in the amount of $400 in 2007 and $900 in 2006.

Deferred revenue arises from contributions, prepayments of workshop fees and subscription revenue applicable to future periods. Specifically, the Organization recognizes all subscription revenues received for subscriptions commencing in the current year as revenue in the current year. Subscription revenue received in the current year for subscriptions commencing in the following year is deferred.

In March 2006, the Board of Directors of the Organization made a determination to discontinue charging subscription fees for all Monthly Law Summary publications. Consequently, renewal notices will not be sent to existing subscribers after the June 2006 renewal period. These legal publications will be accessible by the public without a password on the Organization's website beginning with the September 2006 issues. Revenues from these publications were approximately $90,000 in 2006.

However, unrelated activities are subject to income taxation under the Internal Revenue Code.
