Broad range of use of force topics covering best practice/recommendations.

(b) The major weaknesses of the program?

major weaknesses of the program?
Great reference material, but handouts a little distracting. Difficult to find appropriate material (for note-taking purposes). Maybe set up Powerpoint

---------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------

- ① A BIT FRUSTRATING; BOOK & POWERPOINT VERY DISCONNECTED, MADE IT DIFFICULT TO PUT NOTES IN CONTEXT.
② ITS TOUGH FOLLOWING/ MAKING NOTES IN CONTEXT. THIS MATERIAL BOUNCES TO DIFFERENT BOOKS AND TOPICS, SO UNCLEAR WHERE SUBJECTS FELL... LATER LOOK-UP REFERRAL MADE TOUGH.
③ PRESENTATIONS WERE SEQUENTIAL; very engaging, but non-linear

Kris Pitcher (Monday)	Content CIS INVESTIGATIONS (A)	Quality (B) style more suitable for lecture than training presentation

Ken Katsaris (Tuesday)	Content FORCE SCIENCE PERCEPTION (B) EPC	Quality (C)

intriguing presentation, but very tangential. Too superficial to be useful to an investigator; physiological reasons and implications glossed over. Force Science Certification is 40 hr course... tough to pare that into 10 minutes. see focused

Charles Gruber (Wednesday)	Content MANAGEMENT, OVERSIGHT (C)	Quality (E) dangerously only on singular elements

Good presentation with established concepts, but questionable conclusions drawn. To presume that "communities" and "community leaders" will be assuaged by outreach, and rule of law, and education doesn't give with reality and experience. DCS sure as hell could have done some educating in Ferguson. And who appoints these community leaders. Al Sharpton is NOT a community leader, he is an activist. Oakland is driven by activists. The communities are hostages of them; there seems to be a bit of a fantasy in some of the expectations (see Oakland). Principles are right and appropriate, but don't expect your

Other Remarks (If Any): predicted/ assumed results. I am bothered by hypocritical nature of presentation. Important that public should be educated, but actions in Ferguson by DCS were intended to fix ignorance affecting community leaders for input, but DCS deferred to victimologists like Sharpton. As you say, it's a credibility issue, too.

1 2 3 4 5 6
Very poor faculty Very superior faculty

Comments: Judge Plitt was difficult to listen to as it seemed many things he cited as examples were dated. Every other speaker held my interest & were extremely dynamic... Also very "white" & no women speakers... Why?

2. What Were:

(a) The major strengths of the program? Pitcher & Daigle.

(b) The major weaknesses of the program? Losing out on 2 speakers!
The Book & handouts being hard to follow w/ each speaker. (please # pages!)

3. Which Topics Do You Feel Should Have Been Added to or Deleted From the Program?

All relevant... some more interesting than others. w/ so many lawsuits right now w/ OC, would have liked to hear more about this subject

Enjoyed listening to him - would have enjoyed having him speak more often! Great tool he offered up "LAPD Supervisory Response checklist" & "STEP CHART FLOWCHART"

John Peters (Tuesday, Wednesday)	Content A	Quality A

Really good info to add to our training division! How do we get the real info on "TASERS" if they don't provide it... we are new to the CEW game & this presentation made us quite skeptical on if we made a good decision

Eric Daigle (Tuesday, Thursday)	Content A	Quality A

Great info for Review Board & Policy... Great info on CEWs -

Ken Katsaris (Tuesday)	Content A	Quality B

Emory A. Plitt, Jr. (Mon. Wed. Thurs)	Content B	Quality C
----------------------------------------------------------	------------------	------------------

I've seen Judge Plitt before. He tends to jump around from one part of his outline to another in a way that makes him hard to follow. Other attendees noticed this, too. I'd get more from his presentations if they were more linear & more integrated with the written materials he provides.
Thursday's presentation was much more linear than Wednesday's.

Kris Pitcher (Monday)	Content	Quality
-----------------------	---------	---------

John Peters (Tuesday , Wednesday)	Content	Quality
-----------------------------------------------	---------	---------

Eric Daigle (Tuesday , Thursday)	Content A	Quality A

Excellent as always.

Ken Katsaris (Tuesday)	Content	Quality
-------------------------------------	---------	---------

Charles Gruber (Wednesday)	Content B	Quality B
----------------------------	------------------	------------------

This presentation could have ^{been} better coordinated with Plitt's presentation. The two seemed repetitive. That said, the themes were useful, just not sufficiently backed up with practical tools to implement them.

Very good classes.

2. What Were:

(a) The major strengths of the program? Very good instructors who knew their stuff.

(b) The major weaknesses of the program? A lot of it had to do with ECWS. It would make sense to put all of this on the same day so that those of us who don't use them can skip this part of the training all at once. Good training but does not affect us.

3. Which Topics Do You Feel Should Have Been Added to or Deleted From the Program?

I would like the itinerary to specifically point to what topic/block is on what page #. Right now we have to hunt or wait an instructor to tell us.
